++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Becoming drier overnight but staying cloudy.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers ease through the evening to leave a mainly dry but rather cloudy night, with this likely to bring some low cloud and patchy showery rain over hills and coasts. Feeling mild and muggy. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Saturday:
After a cloudy start, sunny spells begin to develop widely into the afternoon. The odd isolated shower is likely to develop from these, however, especially across the south. Feeling cooler. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Sunday will see some sunny spells with isolated afternoon showers. More widespread rain moves in overnight and into Monday morning, heavy in places. Cloudier on Tuesday with scattered showers.
